

Who Are Our Farmers?

...You May Already Know Us!

Because we want your customers to know where their food comes from, we code each box of fresh produce (or when appropriate, each item) with the source farm code (farmers' initials). Each farmer's code will remain the same every year. You or your customers can easily look up which farm grew each item!

What is a Co-op?

We're legally incorporated as a producer's cooperative (Co-op), which means that the business is owned by the farmers it serves. We're democratically controlled 100% by farmers; we have officers and a Board of Directors who are farmers. Co-op operating expenses are paid out of regular commissions on sales, and any profits at the end of the year are distributed according to the growers' wishes. The economic goal of the Co-op is service at cost to growers.

Want Fresh, Local Produce?

...We've Got It!

Are your customers asking for fresher, better tasting, longer lasting produce grown locally? Then we can help you give them what they want! Our farmers work together to plan what items to grow, when to have them ripen, and how to deliver them to restaurants, grocery stores, and other retailers. Let us know what you want, and we'll work to give it to you! At right are some of the offerings in 2014.

What Do Garrett Growers Offer?

We have a wide variety of fresh produce items, available throughout the normal Garrett County growing season. In addition, our growers are using season-extension techniques to allow you to offer local fresh produce from early spring through late fall!

Who are Garrett Growers?

We're a small group of area farmers who formed an agricultural cooperative in 2011. We work together to plan and market our fresh produce to new outlets. We educate our members on food safety, post harvest handling, and other topics of value to our customers.
